Standard Chili Booths

Exhibitors are required to provide no less than 5 gallons of chili for sampling to attendees. Entry into the 2005 Chilifest Cook-Off is included in the booth fee, although competing is completely optional.

Chili Booths include 6' Table, 2 Chairs, Tablecloth, Sample Cups, Spoons, Napkins, and Trash Bags. Exhibitors must supply their own non-electric chafing dishes (or crock-pots) and serving utensils.

Exhibitors are welcome to promote their business and distribute menus and promotional items, but may not sell anything from their booth.

Standard Non-Chili Booths

Non-Chili Exhibitors are welcome to promote their business or products, but may not sell anything from their booths.
Free samples are encouraged.

Deluxe Chilifest Booths

Extra Large 10x10 Deluxe booths provide businesses the opportunity to shine brighter than their competitors. Deluxe booths are strategically situated in prime-locations throughout the market, and can be decorated as per the exhibitors desires. Please aware us of your specific plans.

Amature Division

Amature groups of all kinds are welcome to compete in the Big Apple Chilifest. Amatures are non-professional chefs who are not representing a restaurant, catering company, or other culinary institutuion. Students currently enrolled in culinary schools may compete in the amature division.

Additional Exhibitor Details

All exhibitors must provide proof of insurance, listing Rebound Entertainment and Chelsea Market as additionally insured. A food saftey inspector will be on-site and all exhibitors are responsible for maintaining the temprature of their chili and/or other food items served to attendees.
